

State level conference on

Human Rights, Education and Human Development

Report

The American independence manifesto upholds; all human beings are equal and free by birth and these principles have been accepted all over the world. The erstwhile colonies of the capitalist countries have incorporated these principles in their constitution. Indian constitution also incorporated social justice, freedom, equality and fraternity in its constitution for the multifaceted development of human beings. To assess the achievements of our constitution and the infringement of human rights by government agencies, our college organised UGC sponsored two days state level seminar. Various issues were discussed in this seminar and the major issues of the discussion were.

1. Human rights, education and Social movements.
2. Human rights and Indian constitution.
3. Human rights, education and children, woman and marginalized groups.
4. Human rights education, curriculum and human development.

Dr. Bhagwan Dongre, Dr. D. S. Kalambe, Dr. Sandip Gore, Dr. Pandit Nalawade, Dr. Sainath Bansode, Dr. Ramesh Bainwad, Dr. Maroti Tegampure, Prof. Siddharth Munge, Prof. Nilesh Sonwane, Dr. Baliram Katare, Dr. Navnath Aghav, Dr. Vitthal Dahifale, Dr. Ajay Gavhane, Dr. Sanjay Patil, Dr. Kamlakar Ingale, Dr. B. B. Chavan, Dr. Vijay Lomte, Dr. Arjun Ubale and total sixty four research scholars and students participated in this seminar.

Orientedness and employability should be the characteristics of curriculum are the outcomes of this seminar. Curriculum provides the thinking power to students. So utmost care should be taken in curriculum designing so that curriculum provides human rights education which can be helpful for the development of society.

Principal

Dr. R. K. Pardeshi
Sant Ramdas Arts, Comm & Science
College Ghansawangi Dist. Jalga

Co-ordinator

Dr. S. R. Patil